But viewing this from the front, effectively that lag angle can be released at some point to create power. Now, if I▯m hitting the golf ball with very little lag at the top, down, and through, very little lag creates very little power. If I can have more lag, I can hold this and then when I release this, it actually create a lot of power.

It is a powerful experience but sadly very short lived. Something subsequently happens to take me out of my reverie and bring me back to the current state of the game with a bump. This can be hitching, a major lag spike or a Dwarf irritatingly jumping up and down in my peripheral vision as I peruse the Auction House.
